If you wont to kiss...

One day,
I was surfing the web.

Then I found out that someone had shared a tip that date experts use on how to kiss a girl.

The way to kiss a girl was to...

Man: Do you want to hear a funny story?
Woman: Sure!

Man: This story is more fun if I come close to you.

... first you say...

Man: There was a small cherry tomato and he was crossing the road.

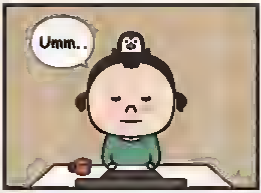
Man: But unfortunately, the tomato got hit by a truck and the tomato was squashed.

Man: Do you know what sound the tomato made?

Woman: I don't know.

... ask this question and then...

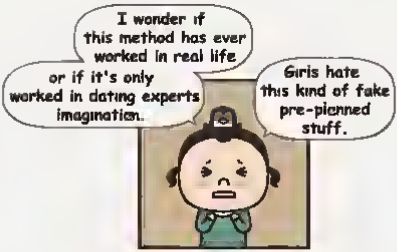
... finish story by kissing her chick.



After I read the idea,
I imagined the situation...

... and I didn't like it at all.

I've seen these kinds of methods on the internet many times.



I wonder if this method has ever worked in real life or if it's only worked in dating experts imagination.
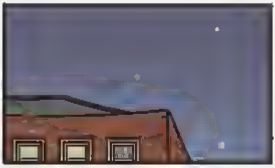
Girls hate this kind of fake pre-planned stuff.

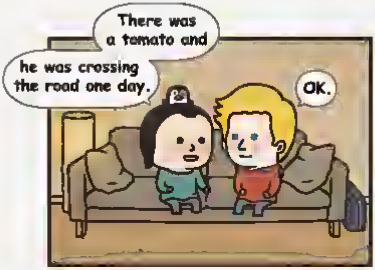
Every time, it made me think that acting naturally from his own heart even if it's not very smooth is always better than following someone else's idea.

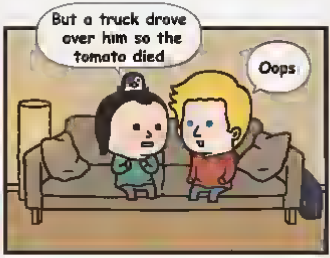


That evening.

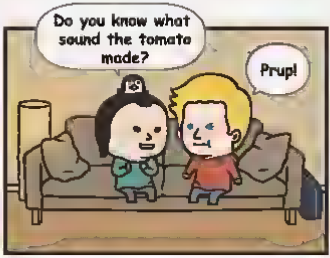
The story that I read stuck in my mind so I wanted to tell Mev.

But I thought it would be better to tell him the tomato story before I explain it all too him.

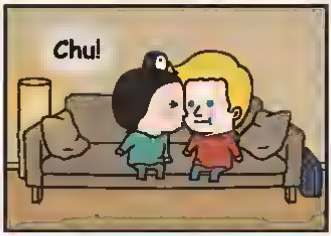




But a truck drove over him so the tomato died
Oops



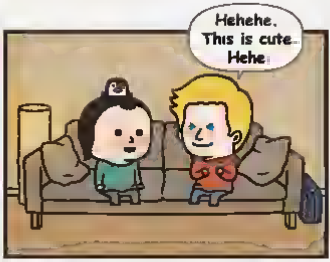
Do you know what sound the tomato made?
Prup!



Chu!

Mev_ Can you believe that this is supposed to be a method to_.

Uh..?



He liked it...
